

President's Note

Greetings Quilters!

I can't believe the end of May is almost here! It's been said that "time flies when you're having fun" and I trust that you are!

Don't forget our Guild meeting on June 6th at the Swisher Center! I'm excited to hear what the final numbers are from our Quilt Show aren't you?

I have been thrilled about our attendance and all the visitors and new members! Keep inviting people!

See y'all June 6th and have a happy and safe Memorial Day.

Alice

It will be soon time to elect officer positions. Think about how you would like to serve in the guild. Personally, I have served as hospitality chair, raffle chair, membership chair and door prize chair. None have been hard and I am sure the others are very manageable with help from past chairs and other members. Think about it, positions available will be announced soon. It is a great way for new members to meet everyone.

Linda Nichols

Please join us at our June 6th meeting. Our presenter will be Cindi Sullivan. She will demonstrate how to quilt on an embroidery machine.

Julie Bodford Memorial

Our friend and Guild member, Julie Bodford, suffered a fatal aortic aneurysm on Friday, January 28, 2022 at Cone Hospital in Greensboro. Her husband, Tom, has planned Julie's memorial service for Saturday, May 28, 2022. It will be held at the Drury Inn and Suites in Burlington, NC at 1:00 to 4:00 pm. Julie had lots of friends and we are invited. Please share this information with all who knew Julie. It will be a time for us to remember Julie and meet her family. Tom encourages anyone to share their memories during the service. Below is the address for the Drury Inn and Suites.

1767 Glidewell Drive
Burlington, NC. 27215
I-40E / I-85N at University Drive exit #140.
You will see the Drury as you exit.
(Using your GPS is always a good option.)
If you have any questions, please call me.

Guild Sew Day

Join your friends at our Monday, June 13, 2022 Sew Day. We start at 9:30 and stay till 3:30 at the Swisher Center at Forsyth Tech. This monthly meeting held on the second Monday of each month is a great time to work on your projects. It's good to have dedicated time with fellow quilters to sew with no interruptions, except of course, good conversations! It's also a good way to meet new friends, learn about our Guild and the surrounding area. Bring your machine (with extension cord, pedal, and machine cord) and supplies you'll need for your project. Look forward to seeing you there!

Together Again

2022 Quilt Show

Wrap up

YES! We really did it!! We have the final financial numbers. Gina, our Show Treasurer, met with me last week. I want to share with everyone the exciting news of our success. Our profit is $8,159.02! Fabulous! I'm still smiling from last week.

Each of you can be proud of this success. Everyone worked hard and together we accomplished another wonderful Quilt Show. Heart of the Triad Quilt Guild has continued its reputation for successful Quilt Shows. Well done everyone. Thank you!

Gratefully, Cindi Sullivan

Heart of the Triad Quilt Guild
Swisher Center
May 2, 2022 Meeting minutes

After the membership shopped the quilt show remnants, Alice Wise, President called the May meeting to order. She welcomed us and stated it was good to see such a large turnout. She recognized the new visitors. Alice wished a happy birthday to those with a May birthday.

Cindi Sullivan told us about an upcoming memorial for Julie Bedford. Details would be in the next newsletter.

Since LaWonne McCoy was out due to a broken foot, Alice introduced the evening's speaker, Charles Cameron. The topic was "An Engineers Guide to Color Placement in your Quilts."

Alice Wise the business portion of the meeting with committee reports

- Secretary minutes for April were approved by the membership
- Treasury, Tracy Burkart, reported finances same as reported in newsletter
- Community Outreach, Linda Fishell, related that she still had no response from Novant Oncology. She had given Next Step Ministry a quilt for a Mom and a quilt for a child. Linda had talked to a nurse with Atrium at Wake Forest Baptist oncology department.. she said they would be thrilled to have the guild's quilts. Linda asked for a vote to proceed with giving Wake Forest our quilts. Vote was unanimous..

- Newsletter, Ellen Hart, no updates
- Hospitality, Shirley Sink, no updates
- Quilts of Valor, Marty Smith, reported kits are available. Presentations will be made outside of the guild meetings. The next presentation to be made at the guild meeting will be in October

There will be a bargello class offered on May 31st 8:30 to 4 at Swisher Center
Places still available

Linda Nichols showed the Guild's new raffle quilt. The raffle quilt will be in the Salisbury quilt show May 13-14

Quilt show, Cindi Sullivan reported show was a huge success. There will be a wrap up meeting at Sedge Garden Community Center on Tuesday, May 17 at 6:30. Results will be posted afterwards. Cindi thanked all volunteers for our success. She had all the show chair persons stand to be recognized.

Old business

Alice Wise led discussion of voting on bylaws changes suggested a few months ago dealing with the treasurer of guild handling guild sponsored retreats finances. The group agreed we were not prepared to have the discussion. Asked for proposal to be delayed and the proposed update to be in newsletter. The membership agreed to the delay

It was brought to the members attention that the personal data collected during the quilt show could not be used. We did not have a disclaimer about how the guild was going to use this information

Alice gave the floor to those with quilts to show and tell. Several members had quilts to present.

Alan Nichols made a request for guild members to visit the World Food Challenge on Facebook and vote for him.

Alice Wise closed the meeting.

Treasurer's report will be back next month.

Our newest opportunity quilt, Spring Bouquet, designed by Edyta Sitar, needle turn appliquéd by Micol Parson and longarm quilted by Rebecca Mullins, made its debut showing at the Salisbury-Rowan quilt show on May 13,14. It was very well received and the show was wonderful. If you know of any events for it to be displayed, please let me know. It doesn't just have to be a quilt event. Text to 336-473-1765. Thank you, Linda Nichols
